

- (1) In what city has the UK twice won the Eurovision Song Contest: Dublin, The Hague or Vienna?
Dublin.
- (2) The Nazca desert is in what South American country?
Peru.
- (3) Which of these was NOT a pirate: Blackbeard, Redbeard or Bluebeard?
Bluebeard.
- (4) Which English king is known as the last of the Saxons?
Harold II.
- (5) A double magnum bottle contains how many litres of wine: three, four or five?
Three. (4x750ml = 3 ltrs)
- (6) 'Lady Grey' is a registered trademark of which English tea company?
Twinings.
- (7) In 1986, which country pulled out of hosting the FIFA World Cup and was ultimately held in Mexico: Uruguay, Venezuela or Columbia?
Columbia.
- (8) Sheena Easton rose to fame after appearing on what TV show?
The Big Time.
- (9) In ancient legend, Europa became queen of which island: Capri, Rhodes or Crete?
Crete.
- (10) In 2013, the Queen allocated Amber Hall in Norfolk as the residence of which Duke?
Cambridge.

- (11) Scuffs and slurps are steps in what form of dance: limbo dancing, Morris dancing or tap dancing?
Tap dancing.
- (12) Which DJ and comedian created the character 'Captain Kremmen'?
Kenny Everett.
- (13) Which of these songs was a hit in the UK first: In the Ghetto, In the Navy or In the Summertime?
In the Ghetto.
- (14) What was the name of Roy Rodgers dog?
Bullet.
- (15) Which science fiction writer created the planet 'Krikkit': Douglas Adams, Arthur C. Clarke or Isaac Asimov?
Douglas Adams.
- (16) Which Shakespeare title character says "Nothing will come of nothing."?
King Lear.
- (17) What has been spilt in front of Judas in Leonardo Da Vinci's painting 'The last Supper': salt, wine or coins?
Salt.
- (18) How is the prisoner Lucas Jackson known in the title of a 1967 film?
Cool Hand Luke.
- (19) Which mammal has the longest tongue, relative to its size: honey bear, nectar bat or sugar glider?
Nectar bat.
- (20) Name the first ten countries alphabetically that has a one-word name that ends with the letter 'A'?
Albania, Algeria, Andorra, Angola, Argentina, Armenia, Australia, Austria, Bolivia & Botswana.

(21) Actor Dustin Hoffman was born in which decade?

1930s.

(22) Which of the Four Men of the Apocalypse rides a pale horse?

Death.

(23) Venetian is a shade of what primary colour?

Red.

(24) What human organs have superior and inferior lobes?

Lungs.

(25) Which US President was the subject of a 2012 Spielberg film?

Lincoln.

(26) 470 is a class in what Olympic sport?

Sailing.

(27) In the US, what did the 'Warren Commission investigate in the 1960s?

Assassination of Kennedy.

(28) Cornflower is a shade of what primary colour?

Blue.

(29) The longest railway journey in the UK runs from Aberdeen to which town?

Penzance.

(30) In a World War Two poster, what did the government warn might sink ships?

Loose lips.

- (31) Steven Spielberg named the shark in 'Jaws' Bruce after his what: lawyer, dentist or doctor?
Lawyer.
- (32) Patricia Ryan was the wife of which US President?
Richard Nixon.
- (33) What tune is now played at commonwealth games medal ceremonies involving English winners: God Save the Queen, Jerusalem or Land of Hope and Glory?
Jerusalem.
- (34) The betting term, 'Burlington Bertie' equates to what odds?
100-30.
- (35) When he died in 1828, Schubert was initially buried as near as possible to whose grave: Mozart, Haydn or Beethoven?
Beethoven.
- (36) What kind of food is tilapia?
Fish.
- (37) The 1986 hit single 'Something Outa Nothing' was performed by two cast members of which soap opera: Brookside, EastEnders or Neighbours?
EastEnders.
- (38) What girl's name means 'woman' in Italian?
Donna.
- (39) James Dean and Rock Hudson were both nominated for Best Actor Oscars for what film: East of Eden, Giant or rebel Without A Cause?
Giant.
- (40) Name the ten titles of Shakespeare plays that contain the letter 'U' at least once? (Not including Henry IV Part 1 & Henry IV Part 2 as Roman numerals)
A Midsummer Night's Dream, As You Like It, Coriolanus, Julius Caesar, Love's Labours Lost, Measure for Measure, Much Ado About Nothing, Romeo and Juliet, Titus Andronicus & Troilus and Cressida.